

Nowadays

By Ipshita Somani
Class 4B

Nowadays I ask you a question
You smile at me without any tension
And google it on your phone

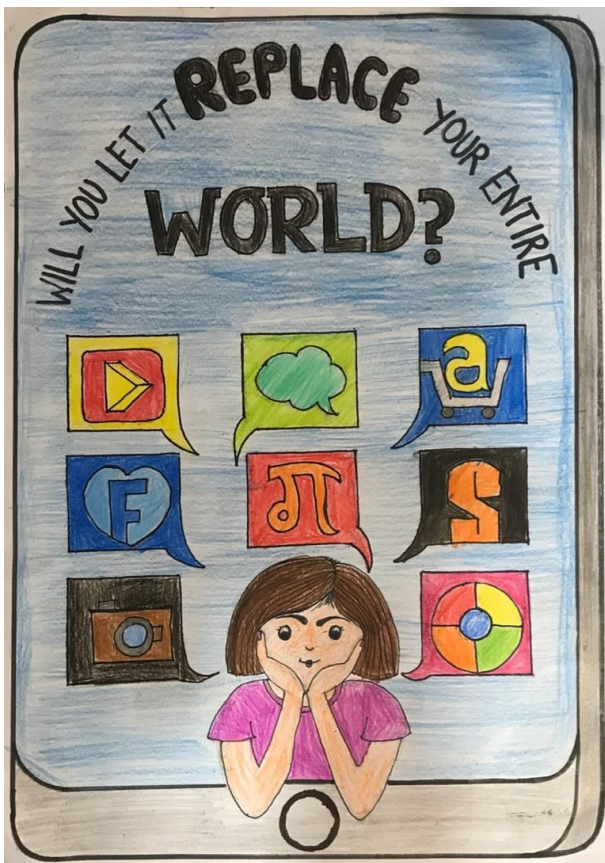

Nowadays I want to eat
Something spicy, something sweet
And ask you to come to a shop
You give me a smile, look in your mobile
And Order online with no worry at all
Do you even remember the fun
Of eating at a stall?

Nowadays when there's work to do
You look at me with just no pains
And say: "hey google, tell me all about it "
Have you forgotten that God has gifted you with brains!

Nowadays you're feeling bored
But instead of walking out
And saying: "hi, hello, how are you"
You go to your computer
And start looking on Facebook
But you aren't learning any social skills
Those people that you think you know
Their number has no ends
But you haven't met them once
And yet you call them friends

Nowadays there's a power cut
You start running around the house
As if there's a huge, grimy mouse
Sure, on Internet we must depend

We all need our mobile
But not so much that if it's not there
The world will come to an end !!!